

The Arches, Lance Aux Epines, Grenada

We don't really have good pictures yet, but here are a few samples to give you an idea of what it looks like

Plot plan

The view (Southeast exposure)

Entrance to the house – called “The Arches” because of the living room windows (see next photo)

View from the living room out to the front entrance and courtyard

Back deck with covered eating area and wet bar

The solar heated pool

Another pool picture, Taken from the bar area

This alcove in the living room is open to the sky so when it rains, it waters the plants!

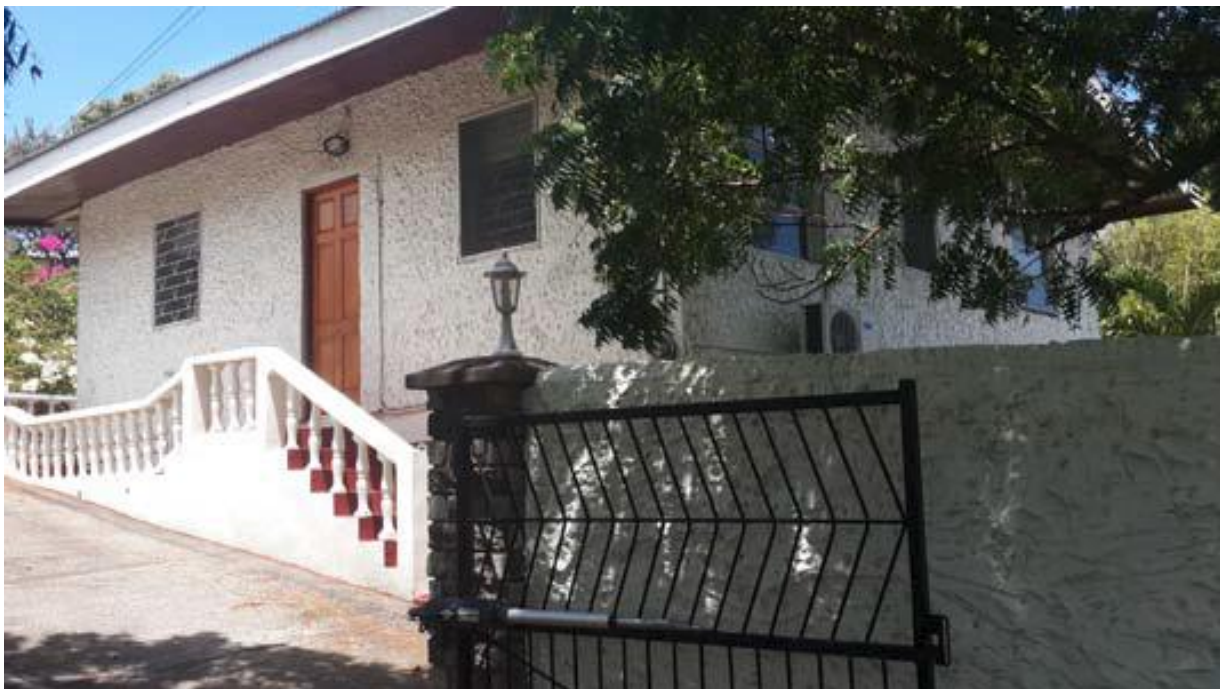

Roomy, modern Kitchen – this is a big deal in Grenada

There are 2 master bedroom suites and an additional bedroom in the main house, plus a study. There is a guest cottage which currently has a kitchen, dining area, living room, 2 bedrooms and a bath. This will be expanded and converted into Michael's studio.

The current cottage and future Straley Photography Studio!

YAHOO!